Seen & Heard Around Murray

Ray Buckingham is proud of the modernization underway on Buck's Body Shop. He has plastered the entire outside of the building which makes it look 500 per cent better. The addition of windows at one time or another with the resulting plaster work, and the worn paint had given the building a rundown appearance. Now with the new plastering job which gives the front a uniformity which is pleasing, the building is greatly improved. Paint will complete the job.

Incidentally for newcomers to town Ray Buckingham and Buckingham-Ray are not the same. The firm of Buckingham-Ray is located in the Northside Shopping Center and is owned by Buddy Buckingham and Rob Ray. The only connection is that Buddy is Ray Buckingham's son. All clear?

Chigger Weed seed is now being spread about by nature. The seed pods are about this long and when they get dry they pop open. The wind drifts the seeds about. Each seed has a long frond like appendage and the gentle breezes float the seeds about until they reach a resting place.

We have some beauties.

Cold weather is about to do our Sultans.

Snapdragons are on the wane.

Mrs. Cleo Farmer has taken her two big ferns in. We know the cold weather is on us when she takes them in and likewise, we know that Spring has come when she puts them out again. In the winter she keeps them out at Edgar's place.

Pair of Towhees out early this morning scratching and pecking.

We don't know whether it's age or not, but we have trouble each morning. We get right up when the alarm goes off, but we don't seem to get anywhere.

We sort of stumble around not sure of what day 't's. We have tried to reduce all morning activity to the minimum and have time from which we do not have to deviate. In other words we try to get through the first hour without thinking.

We are not asleep, mind you, just sort of coasting. We are about in a Zombi-like state. Things are half physical and half not.

Finally we get to the coffee stage and reality begins to float through. Not all at once, you just gradually find out as the coffee transference begins to take effect, feeling begins to come through and we face the terrible fact that it's Monday.

That is just one of life obstacles which one must overcome.

We know several people who are so well pleased with themselves we can hardly stand them. We wonder how they felt during the earthquake Saturday morning.

If an earthquake does not make a person realize what a mere insignificant speck of life he is, then nothing will.

This was our first earthquake and we hope it is the last one.

Standing by the press when it happened and the floor began to heave. We thought we were just getting dizzy or something, otherwise we would have shut the press off. Made a person feel utterly helpless.

They met at a party. He was overwhelmed with her beauty and vivacity. "I suppose you have more invitations than you can possibly accept?" he asked her.

"I can't go out very often because I work," she replied evasively. "But when I don't want to go out with a man, I simply tell him I live in the suburbs." "A clever idea," he laughed. "In the suburbs," she answered sweetly.

Mrs. Carlene Moody Hale of Almo Route One was admitted to the Murray-Calloway County Hospital shortly after being injured in the one car accident on North 12th Street about 5:45 this morning.

Hospital officials said Mrs. Hale had multiple contusions on the chest and leg and her nose was swollen and bleeding.

Mrs. Hale, driving a 1962 Chevrolet two door owned by Billy J. Hale, was going south on North 12th Street when carbon monoxide fumes came into the car causing her to pass out. It was reported.

City Police said her car hit a tree on the lawn of the Mother Goose Nursery at 1112 Olive Street and that the Hale car was damaged on the front end.

Dr. Ammons Hurt Saturday at 4:22 p. m. Dr. James Ray Ammons of Murray Route Two was injured in a car and motorcycle collision on South 12th Street at Story Avenue.

Dr. Ammons was admitted to the hospital with injuries, but was released on Sunday, according to the hospital personnel.

Police said Dickie J. Seavers of Murray Route Two, driving a 1965 Oldsmobile two door convertible, was going west on Story Avenue, stopped and looked, but did not see Dr. Ammons, driving a 1968 BSA motorcycle going north on 12th Street.

Seavers started to cross 12th, said he saw the motorcycle and tried to back up, but could not in time to avoid the motorcycle hitting the car in the left side, according to the police.

Dr. Ammons was thrown from his motorcycle over the car to the pavement, the police report said.

Damage to the motorcycle was on the total front end and to the car on the left side and top.

Police said that the Boyle car was going west on Poplar Street and that the Bailey car was going south on 8th Street when the collision occurred. Police said Bailey said he stopped at the stop sign but failed to see the Boyle car.

Damage to the Bailey car was on the left front and to the Boyle car all on the front end. Saturday at 8:45 p. m. a two car collision occurred on Vine Street.

The cars involved were a 1965 Volkswagen two door sedan owned by Carol Qualls and driven by Debra K. Qualls of Sebree, Ky., now Wells Hall, and a 1965 Buick four door hardtop driven by Earl R. Tabers of 810 Sunny Len.

Police said that Tabers was going west on Vine Street when the Qualls car made a left turn in front of the Tabers car.

Damage to the Qualls car was on the left rear fender and to the Tabers car on the front bumper.

Sunday morning at nine o'clock a collision occurred at 5th and Main Streets.

Police said Culista Cook Evans of Murray Route Six driving a 1964 Pontiac four door hardtop owned by K. B. McCusiston of Murray Route Six, turned left off of Main Street on to 5th Street and was across the left turn lane on 5th Street.

Questions and Answers

Question: Are any changes going to be made in the amounts Medicare patients have to pay under hospital insurance?

Answer: Yes, there will be some changes in the hospital insurance part of Medicare for benefit periods that begin January 1, 1969, or later.

The Medicare law provides that the various dollar amounts for which the patient is responsible under hospital insurance be reviewed annually. These dollar amounts include the first $40 of hospital charges and the different per-day amounts after certain periods of care in hospitals and extended care facilities. Under the law, if the review shows that hospital costs have changed significantly, these amounts are adjusted for the following year.

The 1968 review has been completed, and the following changes have been announced. If you enter a hospital and start a new benefit period in 1969, Medicare hospital insurance pays the cost of all covered services except as shown below:

— For the first 90 days in the hospital—all but the first $44.

— For the 61st through 90th day in the hospital—all but $11 a day.

— For Lifetime Reserve days used—all but $22 a day.

— For the 21st through 100th day in an extended care facility—all but $5.50 a day.

Question: Are there any special provisions in the Medicare law which pertain to the payment of the costs of blood?

Answer: Yes, costs of blood and packed red blood cells are covered under both the hospital insurance and the medical insurance parts of Medicare.

If you are hospitalized, your hospital insurance will pay for the cost of all the blood you need except the first 3 pints in each benefit period.

If you are enrolled for medical insurance, it will help pay for the costs of all the blood you receive outside the hospital except the first 3 pints in each calendar year. (Medical insurance pays 80 percent of blood costs after you have met the $50 annual deductible.)

These are separate rules which operate independently of each other. For example, if the patient receives blood under both hospital and medical insurance, Medicare cannot pay for the first 3 pints of blood under either program. Some people are able to arrange for replacement of these first 3 pints of blood to avoid having to pay for them. There are two ways this can be done. First, the patient may arrange for replacement by a friend or relative, or he may be a member of a blood donor group that will replace these first 3 pints for him.

Secondly—and this is often overlooked—one of the patient's children (or son-in-law or daughter-in-law) may belong to a blood replacement plan that includes the patient as a beneficiary. In this case, the patient would be eligible for blood on the basis of the child's membership.

In almost all blood donor plans, blood replacement credit can be arranged anywhere in the United States. Patients should check with their children and children-in-law about this so they'll have the information handy if they ever need it.

Grover Cleveland was the only President to be married in the White House.

Paint-In Turns Out To Be Near Riot At Tennessee

By CARL A. VINES

KNOXVILLE (UPI) — There was a paint-in at the University of Tennessee recently, complete with real live girls and assorted body paints.

Seems the girls in Carrick Hall South decided to give the boys of Carrick Hall North a chance to paint words and things on them, at ten cents a word.

According to the blurb announcing this happening, there were to be 20 girls in bikinis. Turned out there were maybe half a dozen girls and only one bikini.

The rest were wearing two-piece swim suits, or shorts and blouses. The total take from the event couldn't have been much more than ten or fifteen dollars.

But there were plenty of spectators, a couple or three hundred crammed into one end of the lobby of the boy's dormitory. Now and then the boys would cheer when they caught a glimpse of one of the girls which wasn't often because everything was so jammed up.

The words painted on the girls' bodies were pretty standard, things like "Love" and "Fun" and "Mom." One girl seemed to become the exclusive canvas for a pipe-smoking friend, who did strange designs on her face.

Actually, things were pretty quiet at first. Everybody remained behind the hairline of furniture which closed off the work area.

But then the real bikini arrived, worn by a cute little brunette named Anna Garcia, and the barricades came down. Everyone wanted to get close to her, with or without paint.

It was a real scene, but nothing like an old-fashioned panty raid. A kind of messy girl-watching scene.

One fellow got his money's worth. He lettered down the side of one girl's leg the word "antidisestablishment."

"And as one student finally summed it all up after it was over:

"It beats studying."

Right Move

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Many people feared a massacre on the roads when Sweden switched from left hand to right hand traffic Sept. 3, but statistics recently published show traffic during September and October claimed 123 victims, compared with 167 during the corresponding period in 1966.

The only President of the United States who did not live in Washington, D.C., was George Washington.

Kansas And Tennessee Are Still Picks In Sugar Bowl

NEW ORLEANS 870 — Sugar Bowl president Dr. Fred Wolfe, Jr. said today that the upset of third-ranked Kansas and fifth-ranked Tennessee did not remove them as top contenders for the New Year's Day Classic in New Orleans.

Wolfe said both Kansas and Tennessee still rank high in contention—along with Missouri, Georgia, Auburn and Penn State—for a Sugar Bowl berth.

The New Orleans dentist said scouts will have one more week to view contenders for the Sugar Bowl before a decision is reached by next Monday's deadline.

Auburn 6-2 upset Tennessee 51-1, 26-14 Saturday and Oklahoma upended Kansas 7-1 by a score of 27-23.

Tenth-ranked Georgia won twice from Wolfe for its 51-0—clacking of Florida.

Georgia, however, appeared to be headed for the Orange Bowl if it continues its unbeaten record. "I don't know what the competition is doing," Wolfe said.

The Sugar Bowl president said "if Auburn beats Georgia this weekend, they'll be a hot commodity" in the struggle among bowls.

Fourth-ranked Penn State ran its win streak to seven straight by defeating Miami 22-7.

"Georgia and Penn State are the ones the bowls will go after because they're undefeated," Wolfe said.

He said if Tennessee and Kansas continue on to 9-1 records they would make good bowl material.

But Wolfe predicted more upsets this weekend that would make it rough on Sugar Bowlers to choose the teams.

He emphasized that Kansas still must face arch-rival Kansas State and Missouri this season, Georgia faces Auburn and Georgia Tech, and Missouri meets Oklahoma and Kansas.

Tennessee must play Mississippi, Kentucky and Vanderbilt this weekend, and Penn State has yet to play Maryland, Pittsburgh and rugged Syracuse.

Wolfe, who sat in on Missouri's 42-7 win over Iowa State, called the eighth-ranked Tigers a "fired up" ball club.

He praised in particular punter Joe Wehrli, who returned punts for 129 yards against Iowa State to set a Big Eight conference career record of 1,013 yards in punt returns. "Every time Wehrli returned a punt, it fired the ball club up," Wolfe said. He called the Tigers a "greatly improved" team since he watched them earlier this year.

Univ. High Loses To Fredonia

Unbeaten Fredonia marked up another convincing victory Friday night by beating University High 90 to 61. The two teams seemed to be evenly matched in the first half which ended with the score 30 to 30 in favor of Fredonia. Fredonia broke the game wide open in the second half by stopping University High's inside shooting with a zone press.

Georgia And Auburn To Battle For SEC Lead

By DAVID MOFFIT
UPI Sports Writer

The amazing Auburn Tigers of Shug Jordan and the unbeaten Georgia Bulldogs of Vince Dooley, the one-time assistant Shug appears to have trained too well, collide Saturday in what should be the decisive game in the Southeastern Conference campaign.

If Georgia, which should climb above its No. 10 national ranking after routing Florida 51-0, wins as expected, it's all over. The Bulldogs would be the SEC champs for the second time in three years and probably earn an Orange Bowl berth.

If the Tigers pull off an upset, like this past Saturday night's surprising 28-14 win over 5th-ranked Tennessee, and Mississippi can win at Tennessee, the SEC race goes down to the wire.

Then Auburn would have to beat Alabama to win the title outright since a 'Bama victory and a very likely Ole Miss win over hapless Mississippi State would make the Tigers and Rebels co-champions for 1968.

However, the best bet is that Georgia will wrap it up at Auburn for the Bulldogs now appear to be the class of Dixie.

Cavan Ignored Rain
Sophomore quarterback Mike Cavan ignored a driving rainstorm Saturday as he completed 10 of 12 passes for 160 yards and two touchdowns and scored another himself to get Georgia into a 35-0 halftime lead over the Gators.

Auburn jumped off to a 21-0 lead in the first 20 minutes against Tennessee but the Vols cut it to 21-14 before Loran Carter, who threw three touchdown passes, tossed a 49-yard bomb to Tim Christian for the final margin.

Mike Currier scored three times for Auburn, twice on passes from Carter who has not thrown nine touchdown passes in his last three games. Tennessee quarterback Bubba Wyche completed 25 of 44 passes for 357 yards and two touchdowns in a valiant but fruitless effort.

As for other teams in the Southeast Saturday, it was: Alabama 16 Louisiana State 7, Vanderbilt 6 Kentucky 0, Mississippi 38 Chattanooga 16, Florida State 27 Mississippi State 14, Navy 35 Georgia Tech 15, Houston 27 Memphis State 7.

Penn State 22 Miami 7, Tampa 28 East Carolina 21, Tulane 25 Tulsa 15, Virginia Tech 31 Richmond 18, West Virginia 17 The Citadel 0, and—get this—San Diego State 68 Southern Mississippi 7.

This coming Saturday, in addition to the Auburn-Georgia headliner, Alabama will be at Miami, Florida at Kentucky, Mississippi State at LSU, Mississippi at Tennessee, Florida State at North Carolina State, Tulane at Virginia, Georgia Tech at Notre Dame, Memphis State host to Wichita State and Tampa host to Southern Illinois.

Pharr Regains Lead
Archie Manning, resting his bruised ribs, set out most of the Ole Miss game with Chattanooga as so Tommy Pharr of Mississippi State, who hit on 29 of 38 passes for 277 yards against Florida State, regained the SEC total offense lead with 1,616 yards.

Florida State's Bill Cappleman, a second stringer at the start of the season, completed 20 of 30 passes for 285 yards and three touchdowns as he and Pharr staged a wild aerial duel.

Sophomore Scott Hunter connected on 13 of 22 passes for 232 yards and two touchdowns to lead Alabama past LSU and ruin the Bengals' chances for a piece of the SEC crown.

The win by Vanderbilt gives the Commodores a 4-3-1 record and with weak Davidson up next Nov. 22, their first winning campaign since 1959 now seems assured.

Sports Review

Gary Player scored a par four on the second hole of a sudden death playoff yesterday to defeat Peter Townsend in the Willis Masters' Golf Tournament at Sydney, Australia.

Player, who won $2,240, and Townsend, who captured $1,550, each parred the first extra hole after finishing with 72-hole totals of 277.

Chartical Chonol of Thailand has retained his world flyweight championship title with a narrow unanimous decision over Bernabe Villacampo of the Philippines.

The Georgia 500 stock car race has been postponed until next weekend at Middle Georgia Raceway. Rain washed out Saturday's qualifying and yesterday forced officials to delay all plans a week.

A seven-run rally in the eighth inning gave the United States a 9-4 victory over Mexico, sending the Americans to the finals of the International Amateur Baseball Tournament in Mexico City.

The Minnesota North Stars of the National Hockey League have reassigned defenseman Duane Rupp to Cleveland of the American Hockey League.

Five former winners are among the 14 soccer teams still contesting the European Cup of Champions in London—and Real Madrid is still the most feared. Spain will meet Rapid Vienna of Austria in the second round Wednesday.

Happiness has returned at California Institute of Technology. After 33 straight losses, the frustrated Beavers edged University of California at San Diego, 34-31. The fans tore down the goal posts and Coach Tom Gutman got a ride off the field on players' shoulders.

Vittorio Marcell of Italy won the 120-mile individual road race yesterday for the world cycling championship in a grueling finish at Montevideo, Uruguay. Marcell overtook Martin Rodriguez of Colombia on the last of the 10 laps and then outlasted fast-closing Luis Carlos Flores of Brazil.

SAVERS OUT
CHICAGO 870 — The Chicago Bears, fighting for the top spot in the National Football League's Central Division, won a big one Sunday, 27-19 over San Francisco, but lost an even bigger one-halfback Gale Sayers.

Sayers, one of only three men in NFL history to score six touchdowns in one game, suffered torn ligaments in the right knee and will be lost to the Bears for the remainder of the season. The Bears' physician said following a three-hour operation at Illinois Masonic Hospital that Sayers would be "100 per cent recovered" for next season.

Mrs. Douglass Is Leader At Meet Of Murray WSCS

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the First United Methodist Church held its annual "Call to Prayer and Self Denial Observance" on Tuesday, November 5, at ten o'clock in the morning in the Hale Chapel of the church.

Mrs. Harold Douglass, chairman of the spiritual life cultivation in the society, was in charge of the meditation.

The theme, "Christ, The Giver of Life," was illustrated in the scripture verses, John 1:1-3, John 10:10, and Genesis 1:1-3, emphasizing the word "Life".

Mrs. Douglass said we fail to remember that life itself is a gift, that strength and health are God's bounty, and our minds and wills are divine endowments, that whatever we gain in material wealth and success is ours only because God has given us the talents we possess.

"Urban Ministries in Asia" was discussed by Mrs. John Irvan and Mrs. James Byrn who said through self-denial gifts the message of life may be extended across the sea to help support Christian workers and institutions. They discussed the needs and problems of the Christian ministries in Asia.

Mrs. Celia Crawford and Mrs. Margaret Crawford discussed the educational work and building fund. They said that through the support of the week, persons may help bring the words and meaning of life to children and young people.

Preceding the observance a business session was held with Mrs. Golda Curt, president, presiding. Reports of the secretary, treasurer, circle chairmen, and other committee chairmen were made.

Dear Abby

Modesty a Virtue of the Past?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I'm sure you have been reading about the "floor show" on Wall Street which has been attracting such large crowds, mostly men.

Abby, what on earth has happened to the great old fashioned virtue called "modesty"? If one of those big-bosomed exhibitionists were to be attacked by some sex-crazed man, who would bear the blame?

I am not writing this out of jealousy, because I happen to be — — — — — "35-35-35"

DEAR "35": I, too, disapprove of such exhibitionism, but I would hope that under the circumstances, the milk of human kindness would prevail.

DEAR ABBY: I do a lot of entertaining in my home. I recently invited a very attractive couple over for dinner, and they became acquainted with another nice couple with whom my husband and I have been friendly for some years.

These two couples now go out together in the evenings, and my husband and I are not included. I understand that these two women have been meeting frequently for lunch, also.

Should I cool my relationship with these people? I don't feel nearly as warmly towards them now that I know they have been meeting behind my back. NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: If you assume a possessive attitude about your "friends," you will find them "cooling" the relationship before you do. Face it, you brought two couples together who apparently have more in common with each other than with you.

DEAR ABBY: We have a daughter who is away at college. We send her an allowance to cover smaller items, but she sends us all her larger bills and her father pays them.

She is very prompt about sending us her bills. She puts them into an envelope and mails them without one personal word. It would mean so much if she would scribble "Love," and sign her name.

Our daughter was not reared in a home with cold, unfeeling parents. I suppose this seems like a little thing, but we are deeply hurt.

If we were to mention this to her, she would, I am sure, scribble a little "duty" note, but because it would have been suggested by us it would lose its meaning. What do you suggest? HURT

DEAR HURT: I suggest that you develop a tougher "hide." It takes some children longer to become truly "thoughtful." Some never do. You may have reared such a daughter.

DEAR ABBY: Here's a little verse for that Santa Clara lady who criticized "Mother of Seven" for the size of her family:

You, my dear,

May take the pill

As for me—

I'll take Lee, Frank,

Liz, Jeff, Andy, and Bill.

Dear Santa

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

WHAT do they want for Christmas? What don't they want? Only everything. There are too many toys from which to choose this year, more than ever before, making it difficult for parents to decide which ones should be under the tree. To help with this decision, here's a checklist of points to keep in mind when you are purchasing a toy:

- Is the toy one that will appeal to the child's age group?
- Will it hold his interest?
- Does it stimulate a child's creativity or imagination?
- Is the toy well-made so it will hold up in play?
- Is the toy safe? Could it cause cuts, be swallowed, break into small pieces?
- Does it have play value?

TOO GROWNUP for toys? Not for Ideal's Kooki Kamera. It comes with moustache and other props. Mirror gives pictures fun-house distortion. Kamera has built-in developer.

Finally, of course, the great toy with that most question—that usually decides satisfying of phrases: "Oh, the issue: Will your child Mom—just what I wanted!"

PLAYING FARM is fun for kids 2 to 8. The Fisher-Price set is beautifully made, constructed to last. It has latches to lift, doors to open and slide, jointed animals to pose. When not in use, wood and plastic parts of the 19-piece set store in the farm buildings.

Earthquake Here Saturday Causes Concern; No Damage

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — An earth tremor shook the St. Louis metropolitan area Saturday but there were no immediate reports of any damage.

The shock was felt throughout Illinois, the U.S. Weather Bureau in Chicago said it was flooded with telephone calls from residents in Chicago and suburban areas whose houses rocked for "three or four seconds."

The Weather Bureau at Cairo in extreme southern Illinois, said the tremor was "severe." It said there had been reports of some injuries.

The tremor was felt as far north as Chicago, 400 miles from Cairo, and in Michigan and Indiana.

Earthquakes in the Midwest are rare. However, the U.S. Weather Bureau said the "worst" earthquake in North American history occurred in 1811 and was centered in southeast Missouri.

Tom McCall, newsman at radio station KPLI reported at Sikeston, in southeast Missouri that the tremor was felt in that area. Apparently the tremor came from the New Madrid Fault in southeast Missouri.

McCall said the tremor was felt for about 5 to 10 seconds. He said telephone calls started coming in saying that the tremor was felt throughout the southeast Missouri area.

The tremor shook offices of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch building. The waste paper baskets in the UPI office in the Post-Dispatch building swayed back and forth for at least five seconds. Newsmen writing stories suddenly found their chairs moving.

New "Philip Marlowe"

Toughest Role for Jim Garner

By ARMY ARCHERD
Central Press Association
Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — How'd you like to follow in the footsteps of Robert Montgomery, Dick Powell and Humphrey Bogart? That's the job Jim Garner faced. His latest screen role in "The Little Sister" put him in that exclusive company who played "Philip Marlowe."

It was doubly difficult for Jim to play the role—not only because of his predecessors' prowess but because Marlowe was distinguished by his preference for old cars, shabby office, tendency to get beaten up in fights, and a taste for Scotch.

In the film, Garner drives a vintage convertible, works out of dusty office, gets beaten up often, is hangover prone and worries about bill collectors.

Any similarity between "Marlowe" and Garner is impossible. Garner, the guy, realistic, down-to-earth, is as "in" as today. He owns a stable of race cars—which he can also race; his offices are the most modern, equipped with the latest business gear—TV, phones, etc.

His home is a giant mansion, recently completed after two years' construction. He discourages any fights by his A-1 physique. And—doesn't drink.

FURTHER, Jim hasn't seen a bull/bolletor in years. Financial security has been a primary concern of his since early days as an actor. He invested in many non-show business ventures, as well as his own production company.

Financial security is a responsibility I feel a man must assume for his family and himself," Garner said. "I would hate to think if I failed as an actor I'd starve. Before I came here I held approximately 50 jobs, from waiter, oil well worker, janitor, dishwasher, truck driver, model and gas station attendant.

After Korea, I went back to college and majored in business.

Here Jim Garner, in role of "Philip Marlowe," is "menaced" by another actor in a tense scene.

Jobs, unless backed by knowledge of business, can be precarious even at six-figure salaries.

After departing the "Maverick" series, Garner has played virtually every role and is now among the top stars in the business. Yet, he claims, "I don't have an image. And, actually there isn't any niche I'd like to put myself in. The critics call me a personality. I hope some day they'll call me an actor."

ALTHOUGH Jim denies having an "image," we've always thought him unique with his semi-hidden heroic humor, in civies or in costume. Apparently the public disagrees with both Garner and yours truly.

While filming "The Little Sister" on location at the Largo, a striptease boote on the Sunset Strip, Garner was startled by a carload of tourists who spotted him. One shouted, "Hey—can I

One student at the University who had a class Saturday morning said that the room was cleared by the students and teacher immediately.

Kentucky State Trooper Iris Crawford was in the office of the Ledger & Times this morning. He said he was working at his house at Mayfield when he felt the tremor. He said the odd thing to him was the way the leaves from the trees in the yard began to fall.

Crawford said he had talked with some fishermen who were on the lake at the time of the tremor. They said the lake was very calm and they noticed all at once the shimmering of the water and knew that something was happening.

The trooper also said the men who had been working in the repair of the Eggers Ferry bridge immediately left the bridge as they thought the bridge was going to fall.

Workers at the Murray Division of the Tappan Company said they thought the building was being blown up by some type of explosion. One man is reported to have been on a ladder and he thought that someone was pranking with him by moving the ladder. He looked and saw no one nearby and immediately got off the ladder and ran outside.

Norman Klapp was working the stamp window at the Post-office said he noticed the stamp case as it started to shake and also the floor began to sway.

Terry Ray who had been cutting the shrubs at the Klapp home said he felt the tremor as he stood in the yard and thought that the furnace in the Klapp home had exploded.

Persons in the stores in the various parts of the city and county said that merchandise began falling off the shelves.

In the homes cabinet doors started opening, dishes rattling, lamps moving, tables shaking, etc.

Mrs. Larry (Bettie) Rowland said that she and her husband were in their trailer at the Midway Trailer Park and they did not know what was happening at first when the trailer began to move.

Cordie McDougal was helping his father-in-law to bulk tobacco at Grover's Loose Leaf Floor when the earth tremor hit. McDougal said he thought the barn was going to fall in.

Several buildings in the city and county were reported to have cracks in them including Overbey building, Crass Furniture building, and the Ledger & Times building.

James C. Williams, publisher of the Ledger & Times, said the Goss Comet press was running at the time when the floor began to sway. R. J. McDougal, pressman, said he thought he was just getting dizzy and leaned against a table, but realized the table was moving also.

Williams said that the press has close tolerances and it could have been wrecked completely if the earth tremor had continued. The pressman would have immediately stopped the press had he realized what was happening.

As the tremor hit the city and county, people ran from stores and homes as they thought the buildings were falling or being blown up.

The utility lines swayed and people were standing in awe and bewilderment as they could hardly believe what was happening. The telephones were jammed and many had to wait for dial tones to get through.

Minor shocks have occurred here in the past, but many times they had not even been noticed except by few people.

Use Or Lose

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — It may take longer, but tending the world's tallest trees has much in common with backyard gardening, says John T. Keane, forester for California Redwood Association.

One of the most important chores — thinning out the young plants — is a new practice among tree farmers in California's Redwood Region. "It's a matter of use them or lose them," Keane explains. If the weaker trees are not removed by man, natural competition kills them off.

Lookalikes

ASHLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Police here say something will have to be done next year to protect members of the Shakespearian Festival from hippies who take advantage of the similarity of looks to pass as members of the company.

Ashland police chief Herbert Hays said some sort of identification will have to be devised to tell the long-haired actors from the equally long-haired "flower children."
